

Connor Page
Vice-President of Strategy, DriverCheck Inc.
Division Lead, DC Agile

Connor Page joined DriverCheck in 2010 as Business Development Manager with the goal of maintaining and growing revenues through customer retention, organic expansion and acquisitions. Vice-President of Strategy since 2020, his present role is to identify and actualize new initiatives that will help the company deliver on its mission – to build healthy and safe workplaces. He achieves this by shaping the strategic direction of the organization, overseeing the company’s sales and marketing efforts, maintaining relationships with clients and growing revenues organically, through acquisitions and strategic initiatives.

Most recently, he led efforts to launch DC Agile, a new division created to address the challenges DriverCheck’s client base were facing with respect to COVID-19 testing services and solutions. After a successful launch in 2021, the division is now focused on the next era of COVID-19 testing – at home rapid antigen testing supported by a comprehensive and intuitive web-based platform for organizations called COVIDdetect.

A graduate of Queen’s University with a bachelor's degree in Commerce, Connor joined KMPG LLP in Toronto as a Senior Associate in 2006 and in 2008 obtained his designation as a Chartered Accountant.